José Manuel Magallanes Reyes
Professor
Departamento de Ciencias Sociales
Pontificia Universidad Católica del Perú

Dear Dr. Magallanes:

I am pleased to offer you an appointment as a short-term scholar in 2025. The term of your appointment will be February 1, 2025 through March 15, 2025. This offer is contingent upon your eligibility to work in the United States by the time of appointment.

Your appointment will be at the Department of Sociology. Your activities will be coordinated with the Department of Sociology and the eScience Institute of the University of Washington, and may include:

- Presentation of your current research on computational social science.
- Short seminar or talks on data analytics or similar topics.
- A 4-session "Winter School" focused on developing basic skills and knowledge of the tools used in data science for students in areas like global or public health, public policy, social sciences, social work, international relations, and business management.
- Participation in the weekly Center for Statistics & the Social Sciences Seminar Series and the UW Data Science Seminar.
- Consultation with students on their ongoing research projects.
- Cultural Activities, including visits to museums on campus (e.g. the Henry Art Museum, Burke Museum), participating in campus culture events (e.g. Husky sports), and involvement in unit happy hours, luncheons, and other events.
- Offer a 4 session "Winter School" focused on developing basic skills and knowledge of the tools used in data science for students in areas like global or public health, public policy, social sciences, social work, international relations, and business management.

You will also be affiliated with the eScience Institute of the University of Washington, which will offer you a total funding of $13,374 for the whole length of your stay.

This offer is also contingent upon acceptable outcomes regarding criminal background (if applicable) and sexual misconduct checks. State law requires that the University of Washington obtain a Disclosure of Sexual Misconduct declaration signed by the candidate, as well as conduct a reference check concerning any sexual misconduct at current or past Washington state postsecondary educational institutions. The declaration requires candidates to disclose any substantiated findings of sexual misconduct, to authorize current and past employers to disclose to the UW any sexual misconduct currently being investigated and/or committed by the candidate, and to release current and past employers from any liability. If the results of the disclosure or reference check are unacceptable, the offer will not be extended.

The University's benefits are outstanding and Fatema Mookhtiar Charawala., Department Administrator (fatemakm@uw.edu or 206.616.9794) can answer basic questions and refer you to the UW benefits office personnel as needed.

We are pleased to make you this offer. Please contact me at kylecrow@uw.edu if you have any questions. Please indicate your acceptance of the position by signing and returning this letter to me, cc'ed to Fatema Mookhtiar Charawala, Department Administrator at fatemakm@uw.edu.

With best wishes,
